Letter From the Principal's Desk

Dear Schola Nova Families,

“Education is not the filling of a pail, but the lighting of a fire.”

This thought beautifully reflects the spirit and intention behind everything we strive to achieve at Schola Nova.

From the very beginning, our vision has been clear: education must shape character just as strongly as it builds knowledge. We believe that true learning happens when values, ethics, and skills grow together in harmony. Academic excellence is important, but it becomes truly meaningful only when paired with integrity, empathy, discipline, and respect for others. In alignment with this belief, a collection drive was organized this month to support those in need. This initiative allowed our students to experience firsthand the importance of sharing, gratitude, and compassion. We are proud to share that this effort will continue as an ongoing initiative, reinforcing social responsibility as a sustained practice rather than a one-time activity.

A strong school culture is built on clear rules and well-defined policies. These are not restrictions, but guiding principles that create a safe, respectful, and productive learning environment. Wearing the proper uniform, maintaining a neat appearance, and keeping a well-groomed haircut reflect discipline, self-respect, and a sense of belonging. Such habits nurture confidence and present a refined personality. We sincerely request parents to reinforce the importance of these expectations at home, as consistency between school and family plays a vital role in shaping responsible behavior.

Our children are our greatest asset. By shaping them into disciplined, cultured, and responsible individuals, we are investing in a future where they contribute positively to society as thoughtful leaders and compassionate citizens. This, we believe, is our meaningful contribution to the community and the nation.

January was a month filled with enriching experiences. Field trips allowed students to explore, interact, and create lasting memories that deepen learning and strengthen bonds beyond the classroom.

As we move into February, we eagerly look forward to our Annual Debates, where every student will have the opportunity to participate, speak confidently, and express ideas with clarity and respect.

Together, we continue shaping responsible, confident, and capable individuals.

With warm regards,
Team Schola Nova
